SIOP United Nations Team

Mission: The Society for Industrial and Organizational Psychology (SIOP) United Nations team seeks to bring theory, research, and practice of work psychology to support the achievement of the United Nations mandates.

Volunteer Opportunities

There are a number of ways you can volunteer to support SIOP’s work with the United Nations -- at the organizational, group, or individual level!

1. Join Global Compact

   What is it? “The UN Global Compact is a strategic policy initiative for businesses, academic bodies, and other organizations that are committed to aligning their operations and strategies with ten universally accepted principles in the areas of human rights, labour, environment and anti-corruption.” (http://www.siop.org/GlobalCompact/)

   How can you get involved? You can help get your academic organization or business to sign on to the Global Compact. See www.siop.org/GlobalCompact/ for more details and a toolkit for getting started.

2. Create an Annotated Bibliography for one of the Sustainable Development Goals

   What is it? The United Nations has 17 Sustainable Development Goals (e.g., eradicate poverty, gender equality) that drive their efforts. We are frequently asked to weigh in on how our field can inform the achievement of such goals, but we often do not have readily available resources to answer these questions. We are seeking groups who can organize the development of annotated bibliography around a Sustainable Development Goal (of your choosing) that includes relevant research and practices as they relate to a particular goal.

   How can you get involved? See the May issue of The Industrial Psychologist for an article that describes how to create an annotated bibliography. Be sure to inform Julie Olson-Buchanan (julieo@csufresno.edu) of your plans before beginning to ensure we do not duplicate our efforts.

3. Register with SIOP’s Corporate Social Responsibility and Prosocial/Humanitarian I-O Registry

   What is it? The Registry is a searchable database that our team uses to identify individuals with interests, skills, and experience that can be used for our work with the United Nations, such as working on special projects, position papers, and responding to media.

   How can you get involved? Register through MySIOP (http://my.siop.org/Services/CSR-Prosocial-Humanitarian-I-O-Registry)
